

Sevim GÜLLÜ

Faculty of Sports Science, Istanbul University, TURKEY

Sevim is a PhD student and a research assistant at Istanbul University, Faculty of Sport Science, Department of Sport Management.

She is a member of the Fair Play Commission of the Turkey National Olympics Committee (TNOC) and as a representative of the Commission, she has visited more than 30 universities and Sports Sciences faculties. She has helped to organize conferences where she explains the concept of fair play to students using various examples, both in the sports and the society. This project has been running for three years and the hard work of Sevim and her colleagues has earned them the 2016 World Fair Play Award (<http://www.fairplayeur.com/wp-content/uploads/2012/09/ENG-web.pdf#page=167>).

Activities of the project are still in progress and the project team is planning to organize conferences at 12 different universities in the future.

She is currently an Erasmus student at the Faculty of Physical Culture, Palacký University Olomouc, where she is working on her dissertation thesis.

Sevim Güllü's topic for the 11th International Teaching Week:

- Fair Play in Life and in Sport