

Kasper Salin

University of Jyväskylä
Finland

Kasper is an associate professor at the University of Jyväskylä. He works at the Faculty of Sport & Health Sciences. He is interested in physical education, teacher education, physical activity and information and communication technology in physical education and sports. He also specializes in curriculums and he has worked as an expert in Kazakhstan curriculum reform, as well as in curriculum work in Finland. He has been a board member of Association of Physical and Health Educators in Finland for more than 12 years, of which 6 years he was a president. He has also been a board member of European Physical Education Association. He has the background of a variety of different sports and nowadays he plays football, rides mountain bike, and in the wintertime he likes to spend time snowboarding. Previously he used to surf and windsurf, but nowadays he concentrates on stand-up paddling.

My Topics for the 22nd International Teaching Week:

- 1) Physical Education in Finland
- 2) Information and Communication Technology in Physical Education